REDS WON'T LET THEM INTO HUNGARY—Officials of a Red Cross convoy bearing relief supplies for Hungary wait at the Austria-Hungarian border near Klingenbach, Austria, for permission to enter Hungary. Despite the great need of the revolt-torn land, the Soviet-sponsored Hungarian government at first refused to let the convoy in because, they said, some parcels contained arms for "reactionary, anti-government forces." It insisted the supplies must come through neighboring Yugoslavia. Later the convoy was admitted. (AP Wirephoto)

Demo Wins Close Race In Benton

The first time since 1932 the voters of Benton County have elected a county-wide Democratic candidate, was this year when William E. Neff, young attorney of Warsaw, edged out Vernon Frieze, Republican seeking re-election.

In absentee counting in Benton County the only difference was a reduction of his 25-vote lead following Tuesday's election. In the absentee votes Frieze received 171 votes and Neff 156.

Neff had a 25-vote lead after the general election, receiving 2177 votes to Frieze 2152. With the absentees Neff received a total of 2,333 votes and Frieze a total of 2,323.

Friday when the absentee count was started, challenging of various ballots began and only 28 were completed that day. Saturday the judge began at 8 o'clock in the morning and counted up to 5 o'clock, returned at 8 that night and completed the count about 12:30 a.m. Sunday.

The count was completed after an understanding was reached between the judges before it began that any changes in standing of the candidates would result in the count not to be certified and the vote would be challenged.

It was pointed out several judges of the County Court from south of the Osage River were Democrats and were elected during the time, but Neff is the first to be elected on a county-wide basis.

Frank M. Brady, well known Benton County lawyer, was assured of election as judge of the Circuit Court in the Twenty-ninth Circuit. He had a lead of well over 800 votes before the absentee vote was counted and gained in the late count. Judge Brady served Benton County several terms as prosecuting attorney. He will fill out the unexpired term of two years which resulted in the death of the late Judge Dewey Thatch of Clinton.

He succeeds Judge W. O. Jackson, Butler, who was appointed by Gov. Phil M. Donnelly following the death of Judge Thatch.

One More Chance

Sedalians were given another grand weekend for traveling before winter weather takes the fun out of it. The warm air has now moved on to the east coast.

Fair through Tuesday. Cooler tonight and warmer Tuesday; low tonight near 30; high Tuesday in the mid-60s.

The temperature at 7 a.m. was 39; 54 at 1 p.m., and 54 at 2 p.m. Low Sunday night 39.

The temperature one year ago today, high 76, low 38; two years ago, high 70, low 43; and three years ago, high 66, low 36.

Continue Against Rebels

One Major Pocket Left Inside Ruined Budapest; Workers Fight From Factory

VIENNA (AP)—The overwhelming power of Russia's huge military machine moved relentlessly today against the last pockets of Hungarian national resistance.

The only major pocket left inside ruined Budapest was at Csepel Island, site of the nation's biggest industrial complex. Workers barricaded themselves in one of the big Danube island factories and continued to beat off determined attacks by Soviet armor.

Other pockets still held out in the Budapest suburb of Ujpest, in Dunapentele (Stalinvaros), south of the Csepel Island area, and at Pecs, near the Yugoslav border.

Occasional shooting also broke out in Gyder province, especially along the roads leading to Austria, and in the Vac area north of Budapest.

The last-stand rebels also fought cold, hunger and despair.

The puppet Premier installed by the Russians, Janos Kadar, admitted in a speech over Budapest radio that groups of rebels still were holding out in cellars by day, emerging by night in larger groups for hit-and-run attacks. But he said he believed "all Budapest remnants of the counterrevolution will be liquidated" in two or three days.

In the relentless Russian pursuit of the nationalist remnants, rows of workers' houses were shattered, a children's clinic was wiped out, hospitals were set afire. To wipe out a single rifleman, the Russians would turn a full barrage from tanks, machine guns and automatic weapons, and destroy an entire building.

Correspondents returning from Budapest said the city was in the grip of indescribable horror, more horrifying even than they had seen in the days of World War II.

By the best available estimates, 20,000 or perhaps more—Hungarians died in the attempt to break the grip of the Soviet Union and communism on their country. Russian dead were estimated at from 4,000 to 5,000. Western correspondents back from Budapest brought these figures, and said the wounded numbered 50,000, Russians and Hungarians.

Hospitals were so crowded that litter carrying the wounded were directed to cellars and garrets, all crammed with suffering humanity. In the Petofi Hospital, one of Hungary's largest, doctors have been operating for two days without the aid of drugs. The wounded are dying in great numbers because of the lack of antibiotics.

The first intoxicating taste of victory and freedom for the Hungarians a week ago has turned to crushing defeat at the hands of 13 Russian divisions an estimated 200,000 men.

Most of Nation Has Clear Weather; Two Areas Have Moisture

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Most of the nation had clear weather today with just two areas reporting slight rain or snow showers.

The exceptions were in the Northeast and in the Northwest. Temperatures still were above normal in the Northern Plains. Northern Florida, however, still felt the chill of low temperatures, with readings generally in the below normal 40s.

A warming trend was noted from Virginia northeast through the New England states. Readings throughout most of the South were in the 60s.

School Head Is Speaker For Council

High Scout Award Will Be Presented To Two Persons

The Lake of the Ozarks Council of Boy Scouts will hold its annual meeting and election of officers Tuesday evening at the Smith-Cotton cafeteria. Two persons from within the Council will be given the highest award in Scouting, the Silver Beaver Award.

Guest speaker for the evening will be M. Graham Clark, president of the School of the Ozarks, located in the Shepherd of the Hills Country. He graduated from Georgia Tech and has served as vice-president of an insurance firm.

Mr. Clark served in the Air Force during World War II and retired from active duty in July, 1945, with the rank of major. In the spring of 1947, he took the position of vice-president of the school. Four years later he was ordained in the Presbyterian ministry and assumed the duties of president of the school.

Plans and arrangements for the meeting were made by a committee appointed by Ira M. Mounts, Windsor, president of the Council. Members of the committee are Dick Snow, chairman; Dr. M. Earle Collins, Marshall; Charles Gillespie, Jefferson City; Charles Bailey, Eldon; and Ellis Huston, Windsor.

The Council is composed of the 11-county area in Central Missouri.

Ministers Meet To Discuss Two Conflicts

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The prime ministers of India, Burma, Ceylon and Indonesia discussed conflicts in Egypt and Hungary more than two hours today.

A communique issued at the conclusion of the session in the Indian Foreign Ministry said only that they had met to talk over these questions and would meet again tomorrow.

An Indian government spokesman said the conference may continue through Wednesday.

"The ministers probably will issue some resolutions at the conclusion of the meeting," he said.

Before the meeting, Prime Minister Nehru of India declared U.N. supervision of free elections in revolt-torn Hungary was not right. "I do not know all the details of the U.N. discussion of the proposal for withdrawal of Russian troops from Hungary and U.N. supervision of elections there but I can say that the operational (elections) part of the resolution was not right," he told reporters.

MONTREAL (AP)—About 200 Hungarian Canadians demonstrated yesterday in front of the U. S. consulate here to protest "the unwillingness of the United States to give active help" to the rebels in Hungary.

Egypt Agrees to Permit Entry Of Police Force; Move Soon

16 Nations Will Be Represented In UN Action

LONDON (AP)—Egypt has agreed to permit entry of the U.N. police force immediately. U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld announced today. He said the first units, now assembled at a staging area near Naples, Italy, may go in tomorrow.

Canadian Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, commander of the force, was talking in Cairo with President Nasser and Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi when Hammarskjöld made his announcement in New York.

The secretary general said he intends to leave by plane tomorrow for Cairo to discuss details with the Egyptian government and also will inspect the Italian staging area, now occupied by units from Denmark, Norway and Colombia totaling about 200 troops.

The Cairo talks of Burns and Hammarskjöld may determine whether the shaky cease-fire between the Egyptians and troops of Britain, France and Israel can be made permanent.

Eventually troops of 16 nations are to be represented in the police force, from which all of the Big Four powers are barred. 17th, Burma, withdrew today its offer to contribute. The Rangoon government said it had received no response to its offer.

The Egyptians had made clear respect for their sovereignty was among several conditions for admission of the police. They have also sought assurances that the British-French and Israeli forces will withdraw immediately from the territory they overran in the hostilities that broke out two weeks ago and that the police will be based in Egypt only temporarily.

As Burns flew into Cairo from Israel, the effects of last week's British-French invasion of the Suez Canal zone continued to reverberate around the world.

Both Russia and Communist China issued new threats to send "volunteers" to help Egypt throw out the British and French "aggressors."

At Beirut, the heads of five Arab states met in a top-secret parley to discuss the whole Middle East situation.

Reports said the leaders of Iraq, Jordan, Syria, Lebanon and Saudi Arabia would discuss not only the British-French invasion but the threat posed by the rapid spread of Communist influence in the area.

In New Delhi, Indian Prime Minister Nehru met with the prime minister of Burma, Indonesia and Ceylon to discuss both the Middle East and Russian repression in Hungary.

Both India and Ceylon are Asian members of the British Commonwealth, which has been split by the British invasion of Egypt.

The biggest single snag to the entrance of the U. N. police force into Egypt appeared to be the question of where they would be stationed.

Britain and France made clear in halting their invasion that they expected U. N. forces to take up posts in the canal zone. They said they would not withdraw all their forces until U. N. troops arrived.

Egypt apparently expects the U. N. force to be stationed along the Israeli-Egyptian border, from which the Israelis launched their own attack into Egypt several days before the British-French invasion of the Suez. But Egypt's position on occupation of the canal zone has not been announced.

Cairo radio quoted Col. Abdel Kaber Hatem, chief of the Egyptian Information Department, as saying Egypt has received guarantees that the police force will not infringe or violate Egyptian sovereignty. There was no immediate elaboration.

Large Salvage Ships Go to the Suez Canal

HAMBURG, Germany (AP)—Two of the world's largest salvage ships, the Energie and Ausdauer, set off today for Port Said to help clear the Suez Canal.

The 4,500-ton ships, each equipped with giant cranes and other repair devices, were taken under tow. The long trip to the Suez was expected to take about 20 days.

British, Dutch and Norwegian ships are expected to join in the giant repair job.

8 Persons Die in Fire In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP)—Eight persons, seven of them children, died today in an early morning fire in a three-story apartment in Cincinnati's Mt. Auburn section.

At least three persons were injured as they leaped from the burning building.

All the dead and injured were reported to be Negroes.

The injured included Mrs. Johnetta Clark, 19, mother of two of the children who perished in the fire.

The odor of smoke first was noticed by Mrs. Ruth Walker, who lives next door to the apartment where the fire occurred. She and her father, William Stokes, started a search of their apartment.

"Suddenly we heard terrific screams from the next door building," Mrs. Walker said. "My father, ran down the street and pulled a fire alarm. Meanwhile, the screaming became louder."

"I can still hear those children screaming for someone to save them. Mrs. Clark jumped out and started screaming her babies were in the building. The screaming stopped in a few minutes."

The body of a woman was found in the front bedroom of her third-floor apartment. Her five children were on a bed and the floor of a combination bedroom and kitchen.

The other two children were found in a rear third-floor room. Firemen said all died of burns and suffocation.

Assistant Fire Chief Leo Kuhn said the fire apparently started at the foot of a flight of center steps in the basement.

Sedalia Police Hold Annual Dance Friday

Sedalia's annual Policemen's Ball is to be held at Convention Hall, Liberty Park, Friday night. The ball is to raise funds to help the police officers supplement portions of their police equipment not furnished by the city and a portion will go to the annual children's Christmas tree fund of the police.

Police officers are handling the sale of their own tickets and anyone desiring to purchase tickets is requested to call police headquarters or contact any police officer.

As in past years, 10-per cent of the proceeds go to the Christmas fund which is used to have a Christmas tree at police headquarters to which all children are invited so they may receive treats of candies and fruits.

Remaining funds are used by the officers to purchase shirts, Sam Brown belts, insignia, police buttons, and other items.

Nelson White's orchestra will furnish music for the evening of dancing, which starts at 9 and continues to midnight.

Ex-Official Claims Reds Used Torture

Trial of Otto John For Treason Starts; 'Man With Secrets'

KARLSRUHE, Germany (AP)—Otto John told a five-judge court trying him for treason today he was subjected to "psychic torment" during the 17 months he was behind the Iron Curtain. He said he has "nothing to fear" now.

John, former head of the West German intelligence organization and sometimes called "The Man with the thousand secrets," went on trial before the Federal Supreme Court on charges of disclosing state secrets and denouncing agents of his office to the Russians. He has been in prison in West Germany since he slipped back across the Iron Curtain nearly a year ago.

Addressing the court today, John, now 47, recounted his personal history. He told how he became a member of the anti-Nazi underground in World War II and made a dramatic flight to Britain after the abortive attempt to assassinate Adolf Hitler. It was on the 10th anniversary of this day that John went into Soviet-occupied East Berlin.

With about 100 witnesses to be heard, his trial is expected to last a month.

Since West Germany has no death penalty, life imprisonment is the maximum fate the double turncoat faces. But few West Germans expected such a severe penalty if John were convicted.

John is accused of baring state secrets and denouncing agents of his intelligence office to the Soviets after he crossed into East Berlin on the night of July 20, 1954. He returned 17 months later with the help of a Danish newspaper correspondent and claimed he was drugged and abducted to the East.

John was head of the Federal Office for the Protection of the Constitution, a domestic intelligence agency which spent two million dollars a year to combat Communist and neo-Nazi subversive activities.

The biggest question facing the court was what motivated John in his dash across the border. Both prosecution and defense told newsmen before the trial opened that they were particularly interested in the psychological aspects of the case.

The prosecution contends that he went voluntarily over to the East. John argues he was coerced. Three weeks after he went to East Berlin he announced at a Communist-sponsored news conference that he defected to fight for peace and against a revival of militarism and nazism in West Germany.

Take Less Space—

Cactus Type Plans Will Survive Irregular Care

By Mrs. G. W. WALK
Garden Club 8

For the man or woman who has only a few odd minutes to spare at intervals for plant cultivation, the cactus, and some of the succulents, will give the greatest amount of satisfaction.

Unlike most other window plants, they do not greatly resent irregularities in watering. They have no tender foliage to get damaged, or to fall if conditions become bad, and they require less attention in the way of repotting into large size pots than other kinds of plants.

Their slow rate of growth is a positive advantage for the window gardener as a remarkably large assortment can be kept in the same quarters for a number of years without becoming crowded. Let me say, plant them in pretty containers and not in cans as so many people do.

With few exceptions, the cactus is not grown for its flowers, but when these do appear, they are every bit as gorgeous as many of the better known flowering plants and often with their intensely glowing ruby and purple shades, they rival even the most showy of the orchids. The flowers are also very large in comparison with the plants and it is no unusual thing to see a little plant three or four inches high in a pot a trifle smaller, carrying two or three flowers, each one of which is almost the same size as the parent stock.

The cactus offers untold opportunities for house gardens. Unfortunately, who are confined to city apartments and whose only opportunity to keep growing plants is confined to the living rooms or shelves in the window can easily accommodate two or three dozen cacti, where there would hardly be space for one good sized Boston fern or a couple of starved geraniums. The little plants are never in the way and can be shifted about easily as necessity demands and even though hard usage is most undesirable they will survive the hundred and one accidents and strains upon their vitality that would be fatal to any other living plant.

The cactus, like everything else, will give amazing returns for attention that is just a little better than the ordinary and there is a great personal satisfaction in being the possessor of something a little better than your friends.

The only way to get flawless specimens, is to grow the plants yourself from seed or purchase from a grower who grows them himself. It is very interesting to grow them from seed.

To grow cacti from seed, sow the seed in a well drained seed soil and handle them like any other seeds. Making a cutting of cacti is the easiest thing in the world. Just cut or break off a piece of the plant and you are done. Lay it on a shelf and let it dry a few days, then pot it.

The average good cactus soil may be made up as follows, one part loam, one part coarse sand, one part leafmold. If your loam is sticky, add more sand. A half part granulated charcoal is helpful.

The commonest cactus in the window, because it gives such a wealth of bright flowers, is the Crab cactus. In its native country, it is an epiphyte, but it can be grown successfully on its own roots in soil.

This is the way Cora Pinkley—Call of the Ozark Gardens, says she treats her Christmas Cactus, also Thanksgiving Cactus, to make them bloom. First — you must have the right kind of soil and the same care, as they grow in trees in their native Mexico and South American countries. They are not desert plants, but jungle plants, and they require a rich soil in leaf mold. Put them in loose open soil, using not too big a pot. I start them usually in a one pound coffee can, placing at least one inch of small stones or broken crockery in the bottom. Don't keep them dry, but do not saturate.

When the first sign of the tiny bud appears on the end of the leaf, use less water. Give it only one third of the amount it is usually given, or the tiny buds will drop or be absorbed by the plants. They should be kept rather dry. Sprinkle, or spray the plant twice a week with water at room temperature. During the summer a small cup of weak coffee twice a week, watering it well twice a month with Plant-Chem salts, a commercial plant food.

I can personally vouch for this as I tried it and it works.

Freshman Group Holds Campaign, Mock Election

By Phyllis Aggeler

The Freshman Civics Class, under the direction of its teacher, Sister M. Rosita, waged a political campaign starting last Friday and winding up Tuesday with the mock election of the national, state and county officials. The polls were open before school and during the noon hour for the Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors, while the Freshmen voted during their civics class. The results of the election were quite different from those of the actual national elections, because the Democrats were victorious, with Adlai E. Stevenson receiving 61 of the 101 votes cast. All of the high school students turned out to vote.

The bake sale which the Senior class held last Sunday morning was a grand success and with all expenses paid they cleared about $125, which will go towards the Spectrum. The Spectrum faculty advisor is Sister M. Felella.

The eliminations for the Junior Chamber of Commerce Voice of Democracy contest were held Thursday after school. Miss Carolyn Saczn was selected to represent S-H at the district Voice of Democracy contest to be held Nov. 13.

Regional Library Notes—

Picture Story for Church School Use Is Available

Boonslick Regional Library would like to suggest some supplementary material available for your church school work.

For the six year old and up, there is a beautiful picture story book "The Child Jesus" by Florence Fitch. The color illustrations show Jesus as a very real little boy sharing the life of the other children of Galilee. Yet there is his oneness with God. The artistry of Leonard Weisgard, the artist, has a simple richness in its depth of meaning. "When Jesus Was a Little Boy" by Georgia Eberling is another small child's book reflecting God's love for a child. The illustrations are charming and sincere.

Mary Alice Jones who is director of children's work for the National Council of Churches has a good answer book for the questions which confuse children. It is "Tell Me About Heaven" richly illustrated with lovely meaningful pictures.

Another group of books for a wider age group of boys and girls are those on prayers. Bill and Bernard Martin's "Teach Me to Pray" is a story reminder of each day's need for a different kind of prayer. Catherine Marshall has a book of everyday graces, stories and prayers of the Peter Marshall family. It is entitled "Friends With God."

Tasha Tudor has selected and illustrated a most delightfully inspiring book of "First Graces."

For older young people this is a fine collection called "Your Prayers and Mine" compiled by Elizabeth Yates. These prayers have been gathered from many countries and peoples and from many different religions.

The third group of religious stories are about people. These are for teenagers. They encourage further study and interest in the Bible stories. Such books are Jean Bothwell's "Flame in the Sky," Slater Brown's "John the Baptist," Prophet of Christ," Virginia Milkin's "Jeremiah, Prophet of Disaster," Albert Williams' "Simon Peter, Fisher of Men," and Sarah Jenkins' "Amos, Prophet of Justice."

Just Two Words
Can Double Your Safety at Wheel

By adding just two words to your highway driving vocabulary you can double your safety at the wheel, says the Missouri Highway Patrol. The words are, "defensive driving."

Capt. John A. Berglund, head of the Patrol Safety Bureau said, "Many of the terrible accidents which occur on Missouri highways could be avoided if the individual driver would take it upon himself to be prepared for emergencies at all times, and not depend so much on the other driver's ability. Too many drivers place their faith in someone they know nothing about—someone who could be sick, half blind or even drunk. It's a mistake to assume just because a man is at the wheel of a car, that he knows how to drive. Actually, he might not even have a permit to operate the vehicle."

Capt. Berglund urged every driver to practice "defensive driving" tactics, and explained this meant driving in such a manner as to

Most automobile performance records you read about these days are set on a track or closed course. The results are usually pretty difficult to relate to the kind of day-in, day-out driving most of us do. Running at safe and legal speeds, a '57 Chevrolet recently chalked up a new coast-to-coast record on the road. And the way it set this record is even more important than the record itself!

A new '57 Chevrolet recently proved it has the qualities most people look for in a car—and proved it on the roads you travel, under the same conditions you drive in every day. It broke the record for the coast-to-coast run from New York to Los Angeles (certified by NASCAR). It was a strictly stock, V8-powered Chevy. It was driven by two young ladies.

This last fact, we think, is even more important than the impressive new record set by Chevrolet. Oh sure, it's nice to know that a Chevrolet can cross the country in one uninterrupted span—and do it in less than 57 hours. It's a tribute to Chevrolet's great-hearted V8 engine and solid road-worthiness that it could travel day and night for 2,913 miles at safe and legal speeds—and better the existing record for the trip by more than three hours. But it's only when you consider that all the driving was done by 98-pound Betty Skelton and her friend Caroline Russ that the true significance of this record run becomes apparent.

When a pair of young ladies step into a car and drive it round the clock to a new transcontinental record, you know that car is easy to drive. You begin to see what we mean by smooth-cruising comfort...by nailed-to-the-road stability...by sweet-feeling sureness of control...by quicksilver responsiveness.

We'd like you to get to know this new Chevy. Stop in and see how beautifully it does all the things a car should do.

TELEPHONE COMPANY LOCAL TAXES IN SEDALIA ARE ENOUGH TO EDUCATE 168 YOUNGSTERS A YEAR

What the telephone company means to Sedalia

EMPLOYER... provides good jobs for 171 of your neighbors who earn $611,000 a year—and spend most of it here in Sedalia.

TAXPAYER... pays $34,000 a year in local taxes alone—enough to cover the cost of educating 168 Sedalia grade school children for a year.

BUYER... buys thousands of dollars' worth of supplies and services from Sedalia firms.

In just eight years, telephone growth has created 30 good, new jobs for Sedalia people—and greatly increased all our contributions to Sedalia's welfare and prosperity.

M. B. Pitcairn, Manager

Few people but the tax collector would care that last year the telephone company paid $34,000 in local taxes alone here in Sedalia. But when you realize that this was enough to pay the cost of educating 168 grade school children for a year, the importance of telephone taxes to everyone in the community becomes clear.

Sedalia benefits from telephone company activity in other ways, too... from the $611,000 payroll which helps keep business rolling in Sedalia... the many thousands of dollars worth of goods and services the company buys from local people every year... the active interest that our 171 telephone people here take in community, church, and neighborhood affairs.

Most important of all, Sedalia can depend on good telephone service—a service that grows more in value every year.

These are good examples of the way we can improve the value of your service and contribute more as good citizens when we can have faith that company profits will be fair and reasonable.

US Should Act Against Three Nations

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) says the United Nations should invoke economic sanctions against Britain, France and Israel if they continue to keep troops in Egypt.

"I would recommend that as the next step if they do not comply with the resolutions under the (U. N.) charter," Knowland said in an NBC-TV interview yesterday. Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, is a U. S. delegate to the U. N. General Assembly session opening today in New York.

The three nations have agreed to withdraw their forces from Egypt as soon as a U. N. truce force now being organized is prepared to take over. But Knowland said they should "stop dilly-dallying on this matter of withdrawing their forces."

Ceylon's Ambassador R. S. S. Gunewardene said during another NBC-TV program that the "vast majority" of U. N. members want the forces to leave Egypt "quickly," but two other ambassadors appearing with him said withdrawal before the U. N. force is ready would create a potentially dangerous vacuum in the Suez Canal area.

Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban said such action would lead to a "new explosion," and New Zealand's Ambassador Sir Leslie Munro said British-French intervention in the Suez was a "stabilizing" influence.

Knowland said he thinks President Eisenhower's actions "had set the matter in motion to bring about the cease fire" in Egypt, and that Russia's talk of sending in volunteers to halt the fighting was timed "to gain some of the credit for bringing about a cease fire."

The Eisenhower administration is taking "all honorable means" to keep the United States out of the Middle East conflict, Knowland said, but "this is not a 'peace at any price' policy."

"The Kremlin should not mistake the temper of the American people," he added. "We won't run if a fight is forced upon us."

Arab Leaders Meet Expected to Meet On Mid-East Crisis

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Five Arab heads of state were expected to meet in Beirut today to discuss the Middle East crisis.

The Arab leaders reported meeting with Lebanese President Camille Chamoun were Saudi Arabia's King Saud, King Faisal of Iraq, King Hussein of Jordan and President Shukri Kuwaty of Syria.

Informed circles anticipated that the meeting would take up, among other things, measures to check the spread of communism in Arab states. The Arab chiefs of state were reported worried about the Soviet Union's recent propaganda gains resulting from its espousal of Egypt's cause against Britain, France and Israel.

These sources also anticipated that the conference would try to work out a formula for settling the Arab-Israeli conflict as well as seek a united Arab policy toward the British-French-Israeli military operations.

Soldiers Have Gun Battle With Police

EUFULA, Ala. (AP)—Two cars raced side-by-side down a main Eufula street in a chill sunrise, pistol shots bridging the distance between them.

The one occupied by two Ft. Benning, Ga., soldiers screeched to a stop and roared into reverse for 100 yards. The police car followed.

Then the soldiers' car shot forward again and hit a parked car. They jumped out, fired again at Policemen Cleveland Lott and Charlie Ross and fled on foot. Lott was shot in both hands.

Police Chief O. N. Baker and Highway Patrolman W. H. Faile found George G. Zembruzski hiding in a coal cellar, Baker said yesterday, and he surrendered readily.

Police in Dothan, Ala., 50 miles south of Eufula, later picked up the other soldier, Robert L. Marriot, 20, Columbia, Mo., who had run out of ammunition.

Baker said Zembruzski, 22, of Staten Island, N. Y., and Marriot would be charged with assault with attempt to murder. They were held last night in the Barbour County jail at Clayton.

They admitted to him robbing a filling station 29 miles east in Cuthbert, Ga., that touched off the alarm for them, Baker said. Lott and Ross spotted them coming into Eufula and gave chase.

The soldiers opened fire first, Baker said in relating the gun battle.

Corbett, George Franklin Corbett and Weldon Corbett, all of Knob Noster, and David Miller Corbett, of the home; two sisters, Mrs. Leon Chalfant, Warrensburg, and Mrs. Ray Odell, Raytown; and six grandchildren.

An inquest was held at the Saults-Brauninger Funeral Home in Knob Noster Sunday night by Dr. Kelly Rawlins, Holden. The inquest resulted in finding Corbett died from injuries suffered in an automobile accident northeast of Knob Noster on Oct. 27.

Accidents

Mrs. Margaret Rhodes, 81, Sedalia, Route 2, fell and fractured a hip as she was returning home from the wedding of her granddaughter, Miss Helen McFatrach, to Charles Lamine Sunday evening. She was given treatment at Bothwell Hospital where she is a patient. This is the second broken hip in the family as her great-grandson, Paul Robert Kehl, is in Mercy Hospital, Kansas City, recovering from a broken hip.

Four Negroes escaped with minor hurts early Sunday morning when their car overturned on North 65 near County Highway BB. The car, a 1955 Mercury coach, was demolished.

The car was driven by Udel G. Bogness, 25, 416 West Cooper, who received slight lacerations. It was owned by James E. Robinson, 43, of Kansas City, who with John Henry Robinson, 35, 300 West Morgan, and a fourth man whose identity was not learned, received bruises.

Bogness, according to State Trooper Richard Joos, of the Highway Patrol, said he was driving and was going around a curve when James who was asleep fell against him and caused the door to open. He reported he tried to close the door and lost control of the car. It overturned several times throwing both he, (Bogness) and James Robinson out of the vehicle.

Senator's Visit May Tie Up Shipping

HONOLULU (AP)—Non military shipping may be tied up here beginning Nov. 27 when Sen. Eastland (D-Miss) opens a Senate subcommittee hearing on communism in Hawaii.

Bridges charged Eastland was out to wreck the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union which Bridges heads.

Claims Paper Should Pay Towing Charge

ASHLAND, Ky. (AP)—A subscriber of the Ashland, Ky., Independent complained last week the paper should pay the towing charge for his automobile.

The man said his paper boy failed to leave him the Wednesday edition and he didn't see the notice that the city would clean the street in front of his home that night and tow away parked cars.

The paper refused to pay the $3 bill, saying the city didn't depend upon the newspaper notices about street-cleaning schedules.

Navy Construction Group Will Build Base at South Pole

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP)—A U. S. Navy construction party of Operation Deepfreeze will fly to the South Pole within the next few days to build a scientific base.

Eight picked men commanded by Lt. R. A. Bowers will attempt a South Pole landing in a skidrigged Dakota.

The first three of eight U. S. Air Force Globemasters which are to make 49 airdrops of materials for the base will fly from Christchurch tomorrow to McMurdo Sound.

The planes will drop 700 tons of building materials at the South Pole within the next four weeks.

A Navy C47 carrying Rear Adm. George Dufek, Operation Deepfreeze commander, made the first landing at the South Pole Oct. 31 and stayed one hour. The base to be established will be used by a team of scientists as part of the International Geophysical Year program.

Heart Attack Claims Hit Tune Composer

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—A heart attack has claimed Victor Young, 56, composer of such hit tunes as "Sweet Sue," "Ghost of a Chance" and "Street of Dreams."

Born in a Chicago tenement, Young began playing the violin at the age of 6 and later studied at the Imperial Conservatory in Warsaw, Poland.

He gave up a concert career to arrange for bandleaders Ben Bernie and Isham Jones before entering motion picture work in 1935.

The composer was stricken Saturday after arriving at this desert resort from his Hollywood home.

Polish Peasants May Get Ownership Rights

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—The government has announced plans to give full ownership rights to peasants holding land split from big estates after World War II.

Once the proposed decree is approved by Parliament, peasants will be able to sell or rent their holdings if they want to.

Without these rights the peasants have never really regarded the land as their own and as a result have neglected to use fertilizers and have let farm buildings decay.

First Supersonic Bomber Makes Initial Flight

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—The United States' first supersonic bomber, the B58 Hustler, made its initial flight here yesterday and the test pilot said the 38-minute hop was "very satisfying."

B. A. Erickson, chief test pilot for Convair, which built the delta-wing, supersecret plane, described the flight as a "reined-in demonstration."

The Air Force, in its announcement at Washington, did not disclose whether the bomber actually exceeded the speed of sound, which varies between 760 m.p.h. at sea level and 670 m.p.h. at 35,000 feet.

Thousands of Fort Worth residents watched the new bomber sweep down runway at Carswell Air Force Base at 2:45 p.m. and roar into the air with a thunderous blast of its four podded jet engines.

The Hustler will carry a crew of three—a pilot, a navigator-bombardier and a defensive systems operator.

The Air Force said the plane has 16 complex major subsystems, including its own defense system, which are virtually automatic and do their work with a minimum amount of supervision by the crew.

Man's Monument To Street Will Be Torn Down

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—One of San Francisco's many monuments is to be torn down today and opened up, and a letter sealed in granite in 1925 by a bitter old man will be read.

In 1918 Martin Hanson, an eccentric real estate dealer, lost a battle to keep the city from cutting off some of his property with a street project.

By 1925 he was so furious that he had erected a seven-foot granite monument on a small site near Market Street near Corbett Avenue. He had a plaque set in the shaft which reads:

"A measure of progress. This monument is erected to peace and justice."

"In 1918 to 1968, a half step in history. What will 50 years bring to mankind?"

"Be just and fear not. Do right, whether it pays or not."

"Immured is a letter to Elva to be delivered Nov. 11, 1968."

Elva, in 1925, was Elva Standberg, then 6 years old and according to Hanson the only person in the world who sympathized with

Tame 'Em Like Wild Horses

Newspaper editors are under a bombardment of postcards from William R. Sullivan, Los Angeles, who declares: "Fines do not seem to be the answer to our traffic violations. Perhaps better results could be obtained by impounding the automobile from one to thirty days. If drivers had to do without the car for a few days each time maybe they would wise up."

Now that seems to be a reasonable suggestion. After all, who's to blame for all these accidents, the driver or the automobile? Why, the automobile, of course, judging from news reports of how these modern cars with multi-hundred horsepower and super speeds react in strange ways to the temperaments of their drivers.

Almost every day one reads "Car left highway on curve . . . Car pulled out of traffic lane without warning . . . Car went out of control and rolled over bank into river." Thousands of injuries, thousands of deaths, all because of the CAR.

Someone asks, what ails the modern automobile? Why has the automobile taken on these homicidal tendencies?

Are automobiles irritated because their drivers hold them back on curves? Do they become impatient when a timid driver tries to keep them from going 90 miles an hour? Do these automobiles imagine they can spread fenders and fly around a sharp curve?

An observer of such goings-on says that owners must be protected from the irresponsible actions of automobiles or it will soon be suicide to drive one of them.

Evidently to get this situation back in hand drivers are going to have to show these cars who's boss by cutting the feed supply and clamping down on well-adjusted brakes. That might teach those unruly cars a lesson — slow 'em down and brake 'em like a wild horse.

If this doesn't prove effective and the cars seem to dominate their drivers, then there's nothing else to do except let the courts impound the car, like the Californian proposes.

Keeping driver and car apart for a spell no doubt would make both so glad to get together again they'd cooperate in traveling sensibly next time out on the highway.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—

Worst War Scare Since Pearl Harbor

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Here is the inside story of the greatest war scare Washington has witnessed since Pearl Harbor. It took place early last week following receipt of a blunt warning from Russia threatening to use force against England and France if they did not get out of Suez. This caused the following chain reaction:

1. All U.S. atomic bomber units were put on the alert.

2. Warships were dispersed so as not to be targets for another Pearl Harbor.

3. Amphibian training maneuvers off the southern Atlantic coast were canceled and the airplane carriers Forrestal, Saratoga, and other key ships were prepared for action.

4. An emergency meeting called at the White House worked late into Monday night trying to decide whether Russia was serious about its threat to use force, including rockets, against England, to halt war in the Near East.

Acting Secretary of State Herbert Hoover was the most worried of all. He had reports that 150 out of 300 Russian divisions were on the ready alert, that the borders of Poland had been sealed, that Russian troops were on the Iranian border, that four new Red army divisions had poured into Hungary, making a total of 100,000 Russian troops in that little country.

Extra troops were necessary because Red army units already inside Hungary had refused to fire on Hungarian rebels. First the Kremlin pulled four divisions out of Rumania to enter Hungary, but when rebellion smoldered in Rumania, they were rushed back, and four new divisions were sent direct from Russia.

American Jitters
American intelligence also reported that the Red army in Hungary was under the personal command of President Eisenhower's wartime friend, Marshal Zhukov, though he was under orders from the Kremlin. Those in control in the Kremlin appeared to be Anastas Mikoyan and a new figure, Mikhail Suslov, a member of the Soviet presidium.

British intelligence also reported that they had destroyed a large number of Russian MIG's recently arrived in Egypt. One British report put the number at 35, another at 48. The British also reported they had sighted some Soviet Bisons on Oct. 30, flying over Egypt. This is the huge new Russian jet bomber, equivalent to our B-52.

All this sent the jitters through top American leaders. Fears were expressed that, with the British and French busy at Suez, their home territory, virtually undefended, might be attacked.

At the emergency White House meeting, however, Allan Dulles, head of Central Intelligence and younger brother of John Foster, calmed official fears. He reported that Russian policies in the satellite countries had backfired so disastrously that the Kremlin was trying to save face by waving the big stick in other areas. He argued, however, that Red army leaders were too realistic to start an atomic war.

French Would Hang Nasser

Other calming factors were also noted. It was found that the text of the Russian ultimatum to England and France was not as tough as the version aired over the Moscow radio. Assurances were also given by the Kremlin to U.S. diplomats in Moscow that Khrushchev and Bulganin were still in control and that their conciliatory anti-Stalin policies toward the West had not changed. Suslov also made a speech which, though rough on Hungary and the Near East, was considered moderate as far as the West was concerned.

While some of these factors, plus the calming words of Allan Dulles, eased the tense atmosphere of the White House emergency meeting,

Guest Editorial—

OMAHA WORLD HERALD: Still Building Schools. The United States Office of Education estimates that 67 thousand new classrooms for the nation's public schools are under construction this year. Compared with 1948, when 16 thousands classrooms were built, that's quite an increase.

There's food for thought in those figures, because these schools are being built with state and local funds at a time when some political office seekers are telling the country that local communities are no longer able or willing to face up to their educational responsibilities, and that only the colossus in Washington can get the job done.

Dulles agreed that it would be safer if the British and French arranged a cease-fire.

Accordingly urgent messages were rushed to Prime Minister Eden and Premier Mollet warning that the fate of western civilization might rest upon their agreement to an immediate cease-fire.

French reaction was negative. Mollet wasn't at all worried by the Russian threat. He branded it a big bluff. He was bitterly opposed to any calling off of the Egyptian war and wanted to march into Cairo and hang Colonel Nasser to a lamppost. Finally, however, he agreed to a cease-fire.

What worried Eden was that most of Britain's army, navy, and air force were in the Mediterranean, leaving the British Isles almost defenseless. Eden was fretting over what he should do when the message from Washington arrived. He immediately decided to call off the Egyptian war before the Russians were further tempted.

Most of the above events occurred either just before or on election day. Since then the joint chiefs of staff have been meeting in Washington twice a day in order to evaluate the situation and keep the President informed. On the day after election, however, they did not brief the President. Jim Hagerty may deny it, but he was tired. He had been up late the night before.

Maybe high officials panicked too easily. But unquestionably Washington went through one of the most fantastic and alarming weeks in many years.

Note—Japan has warned that Red China may suddenly attack Hong Kong while British forces are tied up in the Near East. The Peiping radio has been broadcasting daily warnings that grave developments can be expected in the Far East. Red Chinese troops are reported maneuvering around the British crown colony.

Diplomatic Notes

Shortly after the British threat to invade the Suez, Eisenhower phoned Churchill and pleaded with his old wartime friend to stop Prime Minister Eden. Churchill, however, turned him down. He told the President that American appeasement of Nasser had been a great mistake and he would not interfere with Eden. However, Churchill explained that the British had not acted behind America's back. . . . The Red army is reported almost hoping Polish anti-Communists will follow the lead of the Hungarians and start a revolution. Marshal Rokossovsky has vowed he will crush any rebellion with a ruthlessness that would make the Russian action against Hungary look like a Sunday picnic along the Volga. Three new Russian divisions from East Germany already have reinforced the Red army in western Poland. They are battle-ready and anxious to move. . . . Dictator Nasser has been recruiting German soldiers from Hitler's famed Afrika Korps. He hopes to form an Egyptian foreign legion of both ex-Nazis and Communist volunteers.

Christmas Mailing

Packages sent to all parts of the globe are on the increase. The post office is reminding the public of the near approach of Christmas season and the wisdom of early mailing.

To remember servicemen and women and other friends is a nice thing to do, but unless gifts or letters are mailed early, the timeliness of the present may be lost. Receiving a Christmas package in January removes much of the joy of it.

Therefore, it is important to begin now to mail Christmas presents that are going overseas. The Post Office Department gives the following dates: Africa and the Near East, Nov. 1; South and Central America, Nov. 10; Europe, Nov. 10. Any package going to the Far East should be mailed at once.

Don't be a "get there after Christmas giver!"

Big Problem for Ike Is Foreign Aid

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—One of President Eisenhower's biggest problems in 1957 will be foreign aid. How much and for whom? The turmoil in Eastern Europe and the Middle East has heads spinning here.

Congress, increasingly critical, this year chopped a billion dollars off the foreign aid Eisenhower asked. What it does next year depends on the whole uncertain world picture.

It is perhaps the most confused picture faced by an American president since the aid program began.

Since July 1, 1945, this government has shoveled out more than 31 billion dollars, over 14½ billions of it military.

The purpose under Presidents Truman and Eisenhower has been plain enough: to bolster allies, win friends, and help the neutrals and underdeveloped countries for whom the Communists are bidding hard.

But this year the critical mood in Congress showed itself in several ways:

1. Besides cutting a billion dollars off the $4,759,975,000 Eisenhower asked, Congress banned use of the new funds for military aid to Yugoslavia, although aid funds allotted from previous years still could be used.

2. A Senate committee, a House committee and a special committee appointed by Eisenhower are all now busy investigating foreign aid and will be for months.

Both Truman and Eisenhower thought it money well spent to help Yugoslavia which, although still Communist, broke away from Russian control. Congress choked on the idea but still voted economic and military aid until this year.

Then it said no new military aid. Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.), Senate Republican leader, led this fight. He argued that aid to a Communist dictatorship is "disruptive to our whole foreign policy."

Looking Backward . . .

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
E. W. Jones, 1019 West Seventh, attorney, sustained severe injuries in an automobile accident between LaMonte and Dresden when his car in which he was returning home from Kansas City skidded on slippery highway turning over twice. The car was considerably damaged.

1931
Peter T. O'Brien, state commander of the American Legion, addressed crowds at Albany, Grant City and St. Joseph in observance of Armistice Day at those cities.

1931
Robert S. Clough, former Pettis County extension agent, residing at Independence, was elected president of the Kiwanis Club there.

1936
Harry L. Meyers, former Sedalia, was reelected on the Democratic ticket in Montana as United States Senator from that state.

1936
F. M. Nicholas, a former Pettis Countyman, with the California Gold Mining Co., San Francisco, arrived for a ten-day visit with relatives and friends.

1936
J. F. McGrath, representing the blacksmiths and helpers of the Missouri Pacific Iron Mountain systems, was in Baltimore, Md., attending a metal trades convention.

Eisenhower thought otherwise.

He, like Truman, felt that helping one satellite which broke with Moscow might encourage others to do the same. He still thinks so. And Congress may have to wrestle with this idea all over again.

On Oct. 24, after Poland appeared to have broken at least a little away from Moscow, Eisenhower indicated American readiness to help the Poles or any other satellite people who asserted independence of Moscow and wanted American aid. Right now it isn't clear just how much of a break Poland made.

For a while it also seemed the Hungarians had not only cut loose from Moscow but had overthrown their Communist masters. Then the Russians moved in and slaughtered them. But before this happened Eisenhower offered the Hungarians 20 million dollars in food and other supplies.

Eisenhower has other problems on his hands. For example:

The Middle East and Africa—which have received over four billion dollars in American help—are inflamed at the British-French and Israel invasions of Egypt. Russia is trying to move in as the Arab's friend and benefactor.

It will take months to find out whether more American help in the Middle East will be needed or wasted. By then the Russians may have a firm foothold there.

Meanwhile, the French-British split with this country—their attack on Egypt—may encourage American isolationists to demand an end to aid for them and everybody else. It seems unlikely Congress will listen to that.

Women Win On Merit—

Like Men They've Got To Get Out And Get The Vote

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty

WASHINGTON—Twenty-seven women ran for Congress in the 1956 elections but only two women not already in the House of Representatives managed to get elected.

They are Mrs. Florence O. Dwyer, the first Republican woman from New Jersey ever to be elected to Congress and Mrs. Kathryn Granahan, the widow of the Pennsylvania Democrat Congressman who had served five terms.

Why did these two women win and the other 12 new candidates lose? Reasons differ from district to district, but Mrs. Dwyer has a reputation of being "the best vote-getter in the New Jersey state legislature." It helped that her 6th district is traditionally Republican.

As for the success of attractive Mrs. Granahan, she almost "inherited" the seat as seven of the 16 women incumbents also did thru their husbands' deaths. For years she had worked closely with her husband during the ten years he was in the House and so qualified herself with the voters and the job.

Some States have never had a woman in Congress, but others are quite used to the idea. In fact, three managed to get nominated in New York State and two did the same in Massachusetts and Pennsylvania in this election. Mrs. Leonor K. Sullivan (D-3rd district) is now serving in Congress from Missouri.

Typically, Michigan for years didn't have a woman in the delegation but finally a tall Republican woman judge, Ruth Thompson, got the nomination in 1950 and that meant election in the 9th district.

Then another woman judge, Martha Griffiths, a Democrat, came along and has been elected twice. In the primaries some six other women unsuccessfully took the plunge in Michigan this time.

When women do conquer, they have a record of getting re-elected. The dean of the distaff side of the House, Edith Nourse Rogers of Massachusetts, came to Congress in 1925! Frances Bolton of Cleveland came in 1940. She's a widow and mother of a Congressman!

In fact, the political pros are so impressed with their ability to succeed themselves that in two districts they asked a woman to run against a woman, probably on the theory that only another woman could defeat a female incumbent. It didn't work. In the 13th district of Illinois, Helen Benson Leys did not overthrow Republican Marguerite Church and out in Idaho Democrat Congresswoman Gracie Paxon won from the strong opposition of Miss Louise Shaddock, once on the staff of Senator Henry C. Dwyer. These last two debated such unladylike sounding issues as Hell's Canyon and secondary boycotting by Labor!

In the new Congress, there will be 15 women in the House and one in the Senate. Republican Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, who was not up for re-election. That means no gain (with the loss of Miss Thompson in the Michigan primary and Hawaiian delegate "Betty" Farrington in the election) from the 84th Congressional line-up of members. Of the sixteen, 9 are Democrats and 7 Republicans.

Will these women vote the same on issues of special interest to women, such as the Equal Pay for Equal Work bill or for the Equal Rights Amendment to the Constitution?

"The answer is 'no.' There is no such thing as a female bloc. They don't all even like to be called 'Congresswoman,' some preferring 'legislator,' 'member,' or even 'Congressman.' Others wince when an overly gallant Congressman gets up and coos, 'Will the gentlewoman from Ohio yield?' She knows he isn't proposing anything not proper, but in his voice there is often a hint of inequality which she resents.

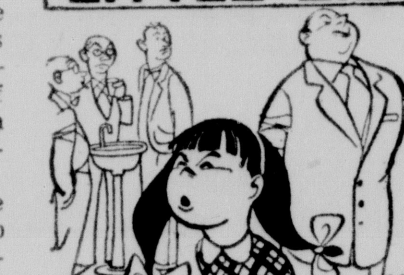

Apparently it helps if the woman candidate is married or has been, specially to a former Congressman. There are no old maids in the new 85th Congress, altho there are plenty of bachelors!

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS FROM YOUR STATE CAPITOL

Missouri's 13 presidential electors will have a six months wait before they are paid for their brief job of voting for president in Jefferson City this December.

According to state law, the electors are to be paid $5 a day and 10 cents a mile for coming to the state capitol to cast their votes for president in the electoral college. Will Davis, chief clerk of the secretary of state, reports that no money has been appropriated to pay the electors. He said the electors will have to wait until funds are allotted by the next general assembly before they can receive their pay.

County clerks and election boards, according to law, must certify the election of the presidential electors to the governor by eight days after election day. The governor then has a week to total and check the votes for the electors and certify them to Washington.

The votes cast by the presidential electors in Jefferson City this Dec. 17 will be sent to Washington where the vice president as president of the Senate tallies them with votes from other states. Then he announces to the nation the results which everyone knew the day after the election in Nov.

Will Davis, chief clerk of the secretary of state, has announced that the official canvass of Missouri's general election will start in Jefferson City on Dec. 11.

The governor, secretary of state and one supreme court judge will make up the board of canvassers who must be present when the election returns from the various counties are opened for the official canvass.

Davis said his office hopes to complete the canvass in three days.

State Rep. Thomas Graham (D-Cole county) is expected to make a strong bid for the speakership of the Missouri House of representatives when it organizes early this year.

Democrats have long talked of opposing Rep. Roy Hamlin (D-Marion county) who has resigned supreme as speaker of the house under Democratic control in recent years. However, any opposition to Hamlin has usually faded before House Democrats meet in a pre-session caucus to choose candidates for offices of the house.

It was believed that Graham was hoping for support from Republicans in his attempt to oust Hamlin as speaker. Candidates for offices of the house are chosen by the two parties in caucuses held a few days ahead of the opening of the session. The entire house then votes on the candidates with the majority party generally taking the offices by weight of votes. However, if Republican house members voted for Graham and sufficient Democrats rebelled against Hamlin, Graham might well be the next speaker of the house.

Mrs. Minna Draper, private secretary to Gov. Phil M. Donnelly, reports that she will go into semi-retirement at noon on Jan. 14 when the governor-elect takes office.

Mrs. Draper has worked for Gov. Donnelly for over 30 years while he was state senator and governor. She plans to live at Camdenton and commute to Lebanon, Donnelly's home town, several days a week.

Mrs. Draper said Gov. Donnelly will not resume law practice at Lebanon but will act as advisor to his son and nephew who have assumed his practice. The governor's private secretary said she would assist Donnelly with his correspondence and private business several days a week.

Missouri's new cigarette tax will yield about $10 million for its first year of operation, according to an estimate by Frank Blankenship, cigarette tax supervisor for the department of revenue.

Blankenship revealed that up to Oct. 31, $8,519,204 had been collected from the cigarette tax which was started last Jan. 1. He said collections of the two cent a package tax were running about $850,000 a month.

Sponsors of the tax had estimated only about a $9 million annual yield from the cigarette levy. Proceeds from the tax go directly into state school funds.

A recent survey completed by the state conservation commission shows that sportsmen spend about $69 million every year in Missouri on hunting and fishing.

Dan Saults, information director for the commission, said fishermen spent $46,272,000 in Missouri last year on their sport. The figure includes amounts spent on equipment, special clothing, transportation, and food and lodging while on trips.

Saults said about $23,247,310 was spent in hunting in the state last year. He broke this figure down to $15,568,660 for small game hunting; $3,572,650 for deer and $4,106,000 for waterfowl.

Saults said Missouri still has not reached its potential as a hunting and fishing state. The greatest room for expansion, he said, was in winter fishing and deer hunting.

Eyes peer at us from unseen sources and we know that someone is spying on us. We sense the fact that we are being observed. We look around us and see no one. We become self-conscious of our appearance and of what we are doing.

One's conscience is ever with him. He knows that although human eyes have turned aside, God's eyes are ever upon him. He knows that the Supreme Being knows not only his acts but also his thoughts and his weaknesses.

Some folk harden their hearts, but even the callous exterior of the conscience is penetrated when the fear of God's justice reaches the soul of man. We accept the knowledge of God, but cringe before the eyes of our neighbors. Men could be cruel, but God is never hard upon man who opens his soul to Him, and truly repents of his sins.

Fire Prevention Is Special Problem In Extended Periods of Dry Weather

Drills to Acquaint Each Person With Location Is Valuable Move

By C. E. Stevens, MU Extension Agricultural Engineer

In any long period of dry weather, it is especially important to do everything possible to prevent grass and forest fires.

The first thing to do is to try to prevent a fire from starting.

Second, make buildings safe by eliminating fire hazards.

Third, be prepared to extinguish a fire quickly.

These precautions will help prevent grass and forest fires.

1. Carefully extinguish cigars, cigarettes, and pipe ashes before throwing them away.

2. Be sure camp fires are put out with water before leaving them.

3. Don't burn any fields.

In protecting buildings, the grass around them should be kept cut short. Leaving tall grass and weeds close to a building invites trouble.

Do not permit leaves to accumulate in the gutters or valleys on a roof. This is especially important on a roof covered with wood shingles. Sparks landing in an accumulation of leaves on a roof can set a building on fire very easily and quickly.

All roofs should be covered with fire resistant or non-combustible roofing materials. Wood shingle roofs that can't be replaced now should at least have the curled up shingles replaced. Shingles that curl up are very readily ignited.

Post telephone numbers of fire department or other sources of assistance near the telephone. Have members of the household fully instructed on what they are to do if a fire starts. A lot of valuable time is frequently lost doing unnecessary or foolish things. Having a fire drill to acquaint each person with what he should know is time well spent.

Keep wet burlap sacks handy for fighting grass and forest fires when they are small. These sacks can be stored in a pail or barrel that has antifreeze crystals in it. Brooms also work well and can be wetted just before using. Swatters to hit and smother a fire can be made from an old piece of leather about one foot square fastened to the end of a stick.

A garden hose connected to a pressure water system can be a big help in putting out a fire when it first starts or in keeping it from spreading to a building.

Farm Forum

Disease Control Is Basic Item for Good Poultry Farm

According to Dr. Paul M. Newberne, member of the faculty of the School of Veterinary Medicine, at this time of year many producers are concerned about worms in the laying flock. County Agent Merle Vaughan reminds Pettis County producers that disease prevention which includes parasite control is fundamental for successful poultry farming. Prevention is always better than control.

A good poultry management program includes the following: using healthy chicks from good foundation stock raised in a clean brooder house; feeding a good ration; growing birds on clean range or in complete confinement, and housing them in a clean house. Worms will usually not be a problem in flocks handled in this way.

The practice of worming pullets before placing them in the laying house or worming them after they go in the laying house is too common. Laying hens should not be treated for worms unless it is known that it is absolutely necessary, warns County Agent Vaughan. Fully developed, healthy looking laying hens that are in every three years rather than all of them annually.

Also no breeding cattle could be moved in from an unclean area without a clean test within 30 days of the proposed entry.

What is the Next Step?

Both the County Dairy Committee and County Livestock Committee had recommended to the board previously that they felt the testing program was good. On the strength of these recommendations and of those of the two veterinarians, the board voted to take the lead in getting the county infection down to an acceptable figure.

A county Brucellosis committee has been set up and will meet at the extension office at 8 o'clock next Thursday night, Nov. 15, to draft plans.

GOOD FARMING

in Pettis County

By MERLE VAUGHAN
County Extension Agent

Shall We Clean Out Brucellosis?

The Pettis County Agricultural Extension Council was offered the opportunity last Saturday to take the lead in eliminating Brucellosis from the county's cattle herds. This disease costs cattle owners of the nation nearly $100,000,000 annually. Two other names by which it is known are Contagious Abortion and Bang's Disease.

The proposition was presented by Dr. L. H. Russell and Dr. W. R. Streiber. Both men are federal veterinarians stationed in our area to work on the elimination of the disease.

The plan is to get the infection down to one per cent of the animals and five per cent of the herds. When that is done the county can be certified as modified Brucellosis free. There are now 500 such counties in 25 states and five whole states that have a similar setup.

How Costly Is the Disease?

It has been estimated that about five per cent of the cattle in the United States have Brucellosis. Recently infected cows produce about one calf in two years while chronic reactors produce about three calves in four years. Saying it another way, Brucellosis reduces the milk production of infected cows by about 22 per cent, the calf drop about 40 per cent and one infected cow out of five becomes sterile.

What Does It Mean to Humans?

In humans the disease is called undulant fever. It acts only as a fever which as indicated by its name, comes and goes. One of our extension directors, Leon (Jim) Morgan of Washington Township, had a flareup of it this summer. He will tell you it is no joke.

The American Medical Association claims that 30 to 40,000 people contract the disease annually. It is not always serious but is probably responsible for many of the small aches and pains we have.

It is primarily a "Farmer's Disease." A study in Iowa indicated that four times as many farmers had it as city people. It is contracted through raw milk, by handling aborted calves or tissues, it can enter through the unbroken skin and it can be carried on dust particles.

Recent checks among college students indicated that 28 per cent of the college youngsters in Tennessee and 29 per cent of those in Kansas showed indication of the disease. In Minnesota it was found in 18 per cent of all the blood given by donors in the state.

What Can We Gain?

If we get to be a certified Brucellosis free county we will have had all herds tested so there will be much less danger of contracting the disease. Also folks will not need to have their herds tested so often. Now "plan A" herds need to be tested annually. With the new setup, dairy herds would be tested only when the milk ring test showed a suspicious reaction. For beef herds 20 per cent of them would need to be tested

Meat-type Hog Is Answer To Problem of Farmer

By J. W. REYNOLDS
MU Extension Livestock Marketing Specialist

How many of you have tried a meal of fried grasshoppers lately? Yes sir!! Fried grasshoppers. Did you know that people are spending more and more of their money for items like that, and that last year they spend about 15 per cent fewer of their dollars for red meat as compared to previous years?

According to a recent, reliable public opinion survey, the pork industry certainly has some public relations problems. This survey on good production do not need treatment for worms. The usual worm treatment may cause them to go out of production temporarily or even longer if it results in a molt.

It is not unusual to find large round worms in laying hens. No other symptoms will be present unless the worms are present in large numbers. Symptoms include paleness of comb and wattles associated with loss of weight and sometimes paralysis of the legs. Occasionally the worms may be found in the droppings. The presence of a few round worms in birds with no other symptoms is not sufficient reason for treating.

fresh pork showed that most people (92 per cent) do eat some pork, and like it, but a great many of these people had an important, definite criticism of pork. Quite a number of them believe not only that pork is more fattening than beef and lamb—but that pork is actually a very fattening meat.

Why is this an important criticism? Because 40 per cent of the women and about 33 per cent of the entire population do something to watch their weight. They try to avoid fattening foods, and about half of them picked pork as the fattening food to avoid.

In this survey, pork was criticized more than other meats. Some said pork is less nourishing, others said it was less digestible. Another point has to do with the social status of pork. Beef was linked with athletes and slim, beautiful women, while pork was linked with truck drivers, large families, poor families, etc.

Here are some facts about pork. Pork is highly nutritious, contain-

Forum Speaker Points to Water Waste in US

Another speaker at the first day of the Farm Forum was R. O. Joslyn, representing one of the largest deep-well pump manufacturers in the nation. He pointed out that the annual rainfall in the whole United States is about the same year in and year out. This ing a large amount of the B vitamin, Thiamin. Pork is highly digestible but takes just a little longer to digest. When you eat the muscle of pork, it is not an extremely fattening food—the excess fat can be trimmed off. Even weight watchers need to consume a little fat for energy sources.

Pork does have a lot of flavor, relatively speaking. Also, some fresh pork cuts, such as the Boston butt roast, are a good buy at anytime of the year.

The homemaker in this survey saying that she believes pork of-brings up the question of why there are extreme water shortages year after year in various parts of the country.

Joslyn explained the water shortage by the fact that national water usage has increased more than six times what it was in 1900. Back then, about 40 billion gallons were used per day. Now 260 billion gallons are used per day. And this consumption is expected to rise, due to tremendous industrial use, to 450 billion gallons per day in 1975.

Pointing to the water waste in this country, the speaker said that about four times as much water is going to waste every day than we are using. If a part of this could be saved and distributed to communities needing it, it would help greatly to solve the water problem.

fers less value for the money than other meats because of extra fat.

You might conclude that the problem in pork is fat. And that the meat-type hog must be the answer to these important criticisms.

Mighty Oklahomans Meet Missouri Tigers Saturday

Should Prepare Colorado's Way To Orange Bowl

By SKIPPER PATRICK
The Associated Press

Okahoma's great football Sooners are scheduled Saturday to clip the last thin barrier to Colorado's participation in the Orange Bowl.

The Sooners play Missouri in Norman and if they live up to the form chart they'll win their 38th consecutive game and send Colorado to the New Year's Day classic in Miami.

Colorado came from behind when quarterback Boyd Dowler passed to end Frank Clarke for two touchdowns, both set up by enemy fumbles, to tie Missouri 14-14 at Columbia Saturday.

The tie gave Colorado a Big Seven record of 4-1-1 for the season.

Missouri, 2-1-1, has a mathematical chance of ending its second place tie with Colorado by beating both Oklahoma and Kansas. If that should happen Big Seven rules specify its entry against the Atlantic Coast conference representative in the Orange Bowl will be decided by the flip of a coin.

Big Seven rules specify a team cannot play in the Orange Bowl on successive years. That eliminates Oklahoma, which beat Maryland 20-6 last Jan. 1 and doubtless will win the Big Seven championship again this year.

Only one other conference game is scheduled for Saturday, last place Iowa State (0-5) meeting sixth place Kansas State (1-4) in Manhattan.

The rapidly improving Nebraska Cornhuskers, who outlasted Kansas 26-20 Saturday, will host Baylor's Bears in Lincoln, Kansas meets UCLA in Los Angeles and Colorado will play Utah in Salt Lake City.

Okahoma, with All America halfback candidates Tommy McDonald and Clendon Thomas knocking off two touchdowns apiece, rolled with ease over Iowa State and won 44-0.

Kansas State gained its second victory of the season against six losses in routing Marquette, 41-14, at Milwaukee.

Missouri appeared to have an easy victory in the making over sluggish Colorado. The Tigers blew two early scoring opportunities in the first quarter before building up a 14-0 lead early in the third period. Then came two Missouri fumbles—the 23rd and 24th of the season.

A "biting" incident figured in Colorado's second touchdown. After recovering a Missouri fumble on the Tigers' 33 yard line the Buffaloes lost yards on a rushing play but Missouri was penalized to its 21-yard line for a personal foul.

Missouri guard Paul Browning was ejected for slugging John (The Beast) Bayuk, Colorado fullback. Following the game Browning displayed teeth-marks in his forearm. He said they were inflicted by Bayuk.

Conference standings:

Okahoma	4	0	0	115	OP
Colorado	4	1	1	750	162
Missouri	2	1	1	625	92
Nebraska	3	2	0	600	57
Kansas	2	3	0	400	102
Kan. State	1	4	0	200	31-140
Iowa State	0	5	0	000	21-164

Broken Leg Fails To Stop a Wedding

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—A broken leg failed to postpone the wedding of photographer Frank Tanner, 50. He broke his leg last Thursday but refused to call off the wedding. So Superior Judge Elmer D. Doyle performed the ceremony yesterday in Tanner's room at St. Joseph's hospital.

About 30 friends signed Tanner's cast instead of a guest book.

The bride, the former Erna Pfaff, 48, returned to her Los Angeles home. Tanner, stayed in his hospital bed.

Her father, Lyle G. Payette, a furniture salesman, said yesterday he cannot afford to keep his daughter in Los Angeles Children's Hospital any longer.

Her heart stopped beating during a tonsilectomy. Doctors had to massage the organ to start it beating again.

Nothing Definitely Settled--

Postseason Football Bowl Picture Has Been Clarified

By ED CORRIGAN
The Associated Press

While nothing is definitely settled — and, as they say, a football takes funny bounces — the postseason bowl picture was clarified somewhat today with at least half a dozen teams consulting timetables south or west.

With only two weeks to go in the regular season, here is how the four major bowl games could line up:

Rose—Oregon State vs. Iowa.
Orange—Colorado vs. Clemson.
Sugar—Tennessee vs. Georgia Tech.

Cotton—Texas A&M vs. Syracuse.

Oregon State has virtually assured itself of the Pacific Coast Conference Rose Bowl nomination. It has lost only one game, that to Southern California, which is ineligible along with UCLA and Washington for breaking recruiting rules.

After its uphill 20-19 victory over Stanford Saturday, Oregon State has only two opponents left, weakling Idaho and Oregon.

Iowa is the favorite to represent the Big Ten in the Rose Bowl. The Hawkeyes can wrap it up by beating Ohio State Saturday, no easy task since the Buckeyes have won 17 straight league games, including a 35-14 triumph over Indiana last week.

Iowa whipped Minnesota 7-0 Saturday. The only other teams in the running are Michigan and Minnesota. Each has two loop games, including a 35-14 triumph over Indiana last week.

Iowa whipped Minnesota 7-0 Saturday. The only other teams in the running are Michigan and Minnesota. Each has two loop games left and one loss for each would send Iowa westward no matter how its game with Ohio State comes out.

NCAA Policy Group Opens 3-Day Meeting; Discuss Violations

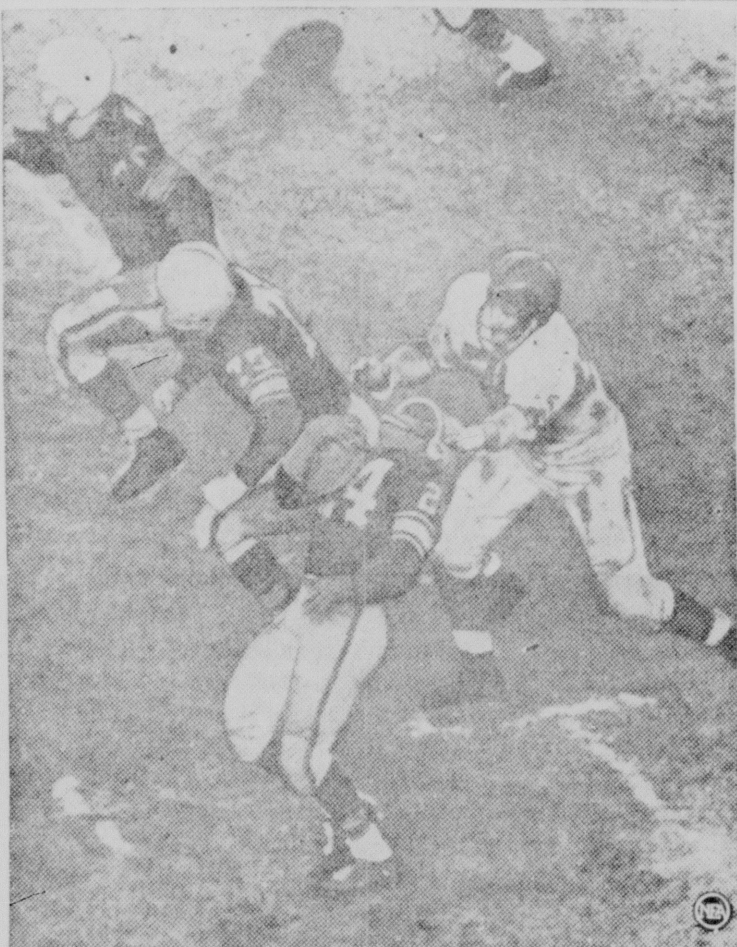

DETROIT (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Assn.'s (NCAA) policy direction committee opens a three-day meeting here today, with reports of infractions of the NCAA code heading up matters to come under discussion.

Pacific Coast football scandals and the question of lifting the probation hanging over Texas A & M are expected to occupy a major part of the meetings. However, there was no indication that the report would be made public.

Tomorrow and Wednesday the committee will meet with representatives of 12 or more major athletic conferences for a "conference of conferences." Some 45 delegates, including a commissioner, faculty man and athletic director from each conference, have been invited to attend.

Both meetings will be a review session in preparation for the NCAA's regular annual meeting in St. Louis Jan. 7-9.

Bill Hartack had two big days at Laurel in 1955. On April 25 he won with six of seven mounts, and on Nov. 5 he scored with six horses out of eight mounts.

HEAD HUNTER—Interference forming, Henry Ford of the Steelers suspected that he might be going some place on a punt return in Pittsburgh until caught from behind by Jim Kata-vage of New York. The Giants' defensive end just grabbed.

RETURNS KICK 15 YARDS—Colorado's Howard Cook (21), is shown returning a Missouri kick for 15 yards in the Missouri U-Colorado game in Columbia, Mo., Nov. 10. Going in for the tackle is Missouri's Bill Craig (82), while Cook's teammate Ralph Herbst (14) blocks out Guy Barriekman and tries to get at Craig. The game ended in a 14-14 tie.

Get Franchise Offers-- Redskins Raise Their Price By Beating the Detroit Lions

The franchise shoppers reportedly hanging around the nation's capital these days apparently have spotted a good pro football buy.

Washington, like Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, has been the scene of reports of franchise offers from a Louisville, Ky., group, and yesterday the Redskins undoubtedly upped the price tag with a tough, but neat, 18-17 victory over the previously unbeaten Detroit Lions.

The result, coupled with the Chicago Bears' easy 38-14 romp over the visiting Green Bay Packers, left the Lions tied with the Bears for the National Football League's western conference lead. Both have 6-1 records with five weeks to go.

While the race was being knotted in the west, the New York Giants were breaking a first-place eastern tie with the Chicago Cardinals by smothering the Cards' trumpeted offense 23-10 in Yankee Stadium and avenging an early-season 35-27 loss at Comiskey Park.

That puts the New Yorkers at 6-1 and the Cards at 5-2, both leading before the Giants are games on successive Sundays at Washington, with the Bears at New York and again with the Redskins at New York. Washington, the team that put the initial stain on the Cards' record two weeks ago at Chicago, could really make it up to the Cards with twin triumphs over the Giants. The Cards face only one more team with a winning record, the Bears Dec. 9, at Wrigley Field.

Former Tennis Champ In Critical Condition After Scooter Crash

CASTRO VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—Art Larsen, former U. S. national tennis champion, was in critical condition today with head injuries suffered in a motor scooter accident.

He did not regain consciousness after his imported Italian scooter overturned on Eastshore freeway near Hayward Saturday night.

Larsen, 31, of San Leandro, Calif., underwent operation on a brain artery at Eden hospital.

Larsen was returning from a friend's home when the accident happened. He was found several hours later by police.

Chinese Nationalists Believe Middle East Increases Danger

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The Chinese Nationalists believe the crisis in the Middle East has increased the danger of attack by the Chinese Communists.

To guard against possible attack while the attention of the world is turned on events in Egypt and Hungary, the Nationalist Defense Ministry has announced an intensification of "defensive readiness."

The U. S. 7th Fleet, which patrols the Formosa Strait, also is making what it calls "precautionary redeployments to improve our defensive capabilities" in line with worldwide preparedness measures ordered by the Pentagon.

Dave Melton, Kansas City prospect, hit the first pitch for a home run when he played for San Francisco in 1950. He is a Stanford University graduate.

franchise in Pennsylvania had little to get excited about at Philadelphia where the so-so Eagles whipped the lowly Pittsburgh Steelers 14-7. The Eagles, who like Washington have rebuffed franchise bids so far, are fourth in the east with a 3-4 mark behind Washington's 3-3. The Steelers, coveted also by a Buffalo, N. Y., group, and as yet uncommitted on a move have a 2-5 slate, the same as the defending champion Browns.

Baltimore's third-place Colts, 3-3 in the west and the only team to knock off the Bears, stopped Cleveland 21-7 yesterday, and in a battle of west coast tailenders, the host Los Angeles Rams moved out of the cellar with a 30-6 victory over the San Francisco 49ers (1-6). The Rams are now tied for fourth with Green Bay at 2-5.

New Surgery Method Will Clean Arteries

CHICAGO (AP)—A new surgery method has been developed which scrapes clean the clogged arteries in humans which cause heart attacks, two surgeons have announced.

"Rusted" coronary arteries were bored clean in about the same manner that rusted or stopped-up water pipes are reamed out.

A thin, hollow instrument pushed through the arteries cut away plugs of fatty material that had caused the heart attacks, and threatened to cause new attacks.

The new surgery was performed within the last two weeks on two men, aged 51 and 52, both victims of heart attacks like that of President Eisenhower. The cleaning-out increased the vital flow of blood to the heart muscle. The patients are expected to leave the hospital soon.

The new step was announced by Dr. Charles P. Bailey of Hahnemann Medical College and Hahnemann Hospital, Philadelphia, and Dr. Angelo May of Mt. Zion Hospital, San Francisco. It was reported to the American Society for Study of Arteriosclerosis (hardening of the arteries).

It was interpreted as a step toward a new era of surgical prevention of heart attacks.

Dr. Bailey said it is too early to determine how much this new method has helped the two patients, or how many heart victims might be helped this way.

Experts Predict Boom In House Building

NEW YORK (AP)—Three experts in housing economics predict in a new report that there will be more new homes built in the next 25 years than in any similar period of the nation's history. The three are Doctors Lou Grebler, David M. Blank and Louis Winnick. The report was released by the Princeton University Press.

Georgia Tech Drops From Unbeaten Ranks; 20 Still on List

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Georgia Tech, the nation's second-ranked team, was counted among the missing today in the list of unbeaten, untied football teams.

The list now includes 20 teams, among them Tech's conqueror, Tennessee. Besides the Vols, other major unbeaten are Wyoming, Oklahoma and Princeton.

The list also includes Kansas Wesleyan at Salina.

Traditional Hungary Flag Is Displayed

MELBOURNE (AP)—The traditional flag of Hungary flew over the entrance to the Olympic village today after the head of the stituted for the communist banner.

Philip Miskin, commandant of the village where the competing athletes are quartered, said the change was made after a phone call from the Hungarian chief de mission after his arrival in Darwin (northern Australia) to the acting head of the Hungarian delegation now in Melbourne.

Presumably, the order came as a result of the new communist regime's concession in Budapest that henceforth the official flag of Hungary would be the traditional red, white and green banner with the Kossuth crest.

The change may have cleared the way for Hungarian participation in the games, which begin Nov. 22. The athletes here, many of whom fought as rebels against Russian troops, had vowed yesterday that they would not compete under the Hungarian communist emblem.

Miskin said the communist flag was actually taken down by two of the Hungarian competitors who had accompanied him and two of his officials to the flag pole.

There was no comment from Russian Olympic officials concerning the change in flags.

Meanwhile, several thousand Hungarian-Australians packed Es-sendon airport to await the plane bringing the Hungarian team from Darwin. Three greeters carried flowers and Hungarian flags with the mourning band attached. All the men wore black ties.

Then the huge plane touched down it was greeted by thunderous cheers of "hoor, hoor, Hur-ray."

Athletes aboard included defending Olympic hammer throw champion Josef Csermak who at one time was reported killed fighting for the rebels in Budapest.

Colorado Nominated For Orange Bowl Game

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Big Seven football conference has the Orange Bowl schedule committee's nomination for the New Year's day game at Miami: Colorado.

Committee chairman Van C. Kuserow said Big Seven officials were informed "we feel that Colorado's record makes that team second only to Oklahoma "which as last year's Orange Bowl representative of the Big Seven, is ineligible for 1957.

Actual selection of the Big Seven team is up to the conference. Its choice will oppose a team yet to be announced by the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Dodgers Leave Tokyo With 10-2 Victory Over Japan All-Stars

TOKYO (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers bade farewell to Tokyo today with four mighty home runs and a 10-2 rout of the Japan all-stars. Jackie Robinson, Gil Hodges, Roy Campanella and Peeewe Reese each homered in Brooklyn's last appearance in Tokyo and next-to-last game in Japan. They fly to the southern island of Kyushu tomorrow to make up a rain-out game.

The Dodgers neared the end of their goodwill tour with a record of 13 wins, four losses and one tie against Japan's best baseball talent.

All 15 of West Virginia's cross-country squads have been coached by Art Smith.

International Race Has Its Fifth Running

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—There are 10 horses from seven countries in today's fifth running of the International Race and the hatpin trick still is the best way to decide the most likely to succeed.

The pickers haven't tabbed a winner yet so they might as well close their eyes and stab at:

Mrs. Jan Burke's Dedicate, Mrs. Richard Lunn's Mister Gus, C. V. Whitney's Fisherman from the United States; Sir Winston Churchill's Le Pretendant and Jack Gerber's By Thunder II of England; Kurt Laurin's Chantclair of Sweden; Jose Herrara's Vaquero II from Ireland; Madame Andre Lombard's Master Boing of France; Max Bell's Hindu Wand representing Canada; and Forest G. Smith's Australian vide, Prince Cortauld.

Lacking a common denominator, the bettors and handicappers have made U.S. entries the favorites for three of the past four runnings. The picks finished next to last, last, and third.

The only time they went for a foreigner they got fooled again. The U.S. won for the only time. That was in 1954 when Fisherman upset the dope cart which had been hitched to France's Banasso.

So the bettors are going to be wary of Fisherman this time. Particularly with Eddie Arcaro riding him again. His winning ride two years ago was one of his masterpieces of rating.

The advance unofficial odds, however, favor Dedicate with Mister Gus next. And continuing the all-America fixation, Fisherman and Master Boing are given as the next best bets.

Boardman Meets Former Champ In Bout Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Larry Boardman, a young lightweight from Connecticut who feasts on champions, old or current, gets another crack at a former titleholder tonight in Philadelphia, where he boxes Paddy DeMarco of New York.

Boardman already has beaten ex-champ Wallace (Bud) Smith and Jimmy Carter and owns a nontitle decision over Sandy Saddler, the feather king. Rated the hottest thing in the division with a No. 1 ranking by the national Boxing Assn., Boardman is expected to take care of DeMarco.

Randy Sandy of New York and John L. Sullivan, a willing gent from Preston, England, will do their stuff for the St. Nicholas Arena fans in New York in another show tonight.

Sandy's latest on his "come-back" was a decision over Al Andrews at Las Vegas Oct. 29. Sullivan was stopped by Rory Calhoun in eight rounds at Cleveland Oct. 12.

Du Mont will telecast to some regions.

Kenny Lane of Muskegon, Mich., and Frankie Ryff of New York, two men rated among the top 10 lightweights, meet Wednesday at Miami.

Bob Baker, still among the top 10 despite two defeats by Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, returns to the Garden Friday for a bout with Harold Carter of Linden, N. J.

Emmy Winner Uses Caution In Career

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD —Nanette Fabray, winner of two TV Academy Emmies, is playing it cool and cautious this season.

The pert Nanette won the awards as best comedienne and best new personality because of her yeoman work on the Sid Caesar hour. This year she was replaced by Janet Blair on the Caesar show, giving Nanette time to assess the future of her career.

She's not riding off in all directions. Last week she made her first TV appearance of the season on the Shower of Stars. On Nov. 26, she'll co-star with Hal March and Don Ameche in an NBC spectacular, "High Button Shoes." She'll play the role she created in the Broadway hit.

"I've done a lot of thinking about the future," she remarked, "and I've come to two conclusions: 1. You cannot continue as a guest star for more than one season; you've got to have more exposure to keep an audience; 2. If you play the same character in a series, you can expect it to last only two years — three at the most."

"I've had several series offered to me and that is the feeling of all the producers: they all say, 'We'll do it for two years, then take the money and run.'"

According to her plan, this will be her guest star year; next season she expects to have her own series. Jess Oppenheimer, one of the creators of "I Love Lucy," is dreaming one up for her.

Newspaper Publisher Dies at 87

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo. — Funeral services for George A. Naeter, co-publisher of the Southwest Missourian and the printer member of the three-brother team which founded the newspaper 52 years ago, will be held tomorrow, Wash., San Francisco, Nashville, Neater died Saturday night in Missouri Baptist Hospital at St. Louis at the age of 87. He had been in ill health since July.

Fred Naeter, an advertising and business man, is 82 and still active in the newspaper's management. Harry Naeter died in 1918.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. at the Presbyterian Church in Cape Girardeau with burial in the mausoleum.

The three brothers, scraped by a group of townspeople, helped by $425 when the old Daily Republican was for sale in 1904 and took over. The name was changed to the Southeast Missourian in 1928.

George's father, a German immigrant cigar maker, died when he was young and he went to work as a part-time printer's devil in Shelbyville, Mo., at the age of 12 to support the family. He was born in Shelbyville, Mo.

Handset type was giving way to mechanical methods at that time and George learned quickly as he moved about the country, working in St. Joseph, Mo.; Atchison, Kan.; Omaha, Denver, Tacoma, Wash., San Francisco, Nashville, Tenn., Birmingham, Ala., Atlanta, Evansville, Ind., Chicago, Quincy, Ill., and St. Louis.

George Naeter was a printer for the St. Louis Globe-Democrat and Fred was an ad setter on the old St. Louis Star in 1904 when they decided to buy the Republican.

Their creed and formula for success was community service. The paper sponsored many civic and cultural improvements in its area. For 34 years George Naeter was a member of the advisory board of the Salvation Army, which made him a lifetime member in 1952. He had been a secretary of the Southeast Missouri Hospital board of directors since it was built in 1926.

George was a bachelor. Survivors include Fred Naeter, a niece, Mary, and a nephew, Harry, both of Cape Girardeau.

World War I Bugler Returns To Play Again

PARIS (AP)—A 61-year-old bugler last night fulfilled a World War I dream to return to France to play taps for his fallen comrades.

By the flickering light of the eternal flame which guards France's Unknown Soldier, Hartley Edwards completed his pilgrimage from Denison, Tex.

He proudly raised the same bugle he played 37 years ago in ceremonies that moved such old soldiers as Gen. John J. Pershing and Marshal Ferdinand Foch.

The intervening years had left their mark on both bugle and bugler. But Edwards stood stiff and proud in a gentle rain as he sounded the call that signals rest for tired soldiers.

About 500 American veterans and an honor guard of French airmen, soldiers and sailors stood at attention around the Arch of Triumph while Edwards played at the annual Armistice Day tribute of Americans living in Paris.

Earlier in the afternoon, Edwards also played taps at the cemetery at Compiegne.

Edwards last played beneath the arch at French Independence Day ceremonies July 14, 1919, when Paris literally exploded with a "victory" celebration. He was a member of the crack 50-man drum and bugle corps Gen. Pershing formed of veteran American soldiers. Marshal Foch was so impressed with the corps he invited them to come back someday.

Hay Boyle's Column—

Fishermen Spend $2 Million And Drive 7 Billion Miles

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail (or listen to well-read bartenders):

That the average U.S. housewife walks 6 miles a day, but a hospital nurse logs 10 miles.

That a hippopotamus tooth weighs up to seven pounds and formerly was a source of dental ivory for making human false teeth.

That Robert Q. Lewis says a girl's in the awkward age when she's "too old for Dave Crockett and too young for Liberace."

That the nation's 20 million fishermen spend two billion dollars a year and drive 7,000,000,000 billion miles in pursuit of their sport. (They also drink 280 million gallons of beer while waiting for "the big one" to strike.)

That Puerto Rico is the only area permanently under the American flag that doesn't charge a license fee to get married.

That the Pentagon in Washington D.C., has the largest private exchange switchboard in the country. It is staffed by 200 operators.

That the average life of an eyelash is three months, but a scalp hair lives to the ripe old age of two years.

That a farmer in Manisa, Turkey, set a new national shaving record there by scraping off his five o'clock shadow in just 37 seconds.

(I don't see how he did it—unless he used a lawnmower.)

That a Turkish restaurant menu reads like a striptease act. A meatball dish is known as "lady's thigh." Two favorite pastries are called "beauty's lips" and "lady's navel." A couple of eggplant dishes are titled "the sultan liked it" and "the priest fainted."

That a white elephant is not really white. Usually it's a pale yellowish gray, and has pink spots. (If one walked into the average bar, every patron would be afraid to admit he could see it.)

That singer Lisa Kirk says the reason her young nephew was dropped from progressive school was... teacher caught him using an eraser!

That croquet, a national scandal back in the gay 90's when daring enthusiasts openly played it on their lawns on Sunday, is making a comeback in the Midwest. It was the favorite sport of the late critic, Alexander Woolcott.

That the reason babies aren't scared out of their cribs by the odd faces dotting visitors make at them is that even at the age of a year infants have only about 10 per cent of normal adult vision.

That 22 million Americans—nearly one out of eight—now drink water to which fluoride has been added to prevent tooth decay.

That it costs more than 50 million dollars to clean the nation's primary highways of litter tossed out the window by thoughtless motorists.

That although the Suez Canal wasn't opened until 1869, the idea of linking the Mediterranean and the Red Sea by a waterway was conceived and attempted by the Egyptian Pharaoh Sesostris around 2,000 B.C.

That ancient Egyptians, who first domesticated the cat, made it a religious idol because only cats could keep rats and mice from eating the annual grain crop, the nation's chief food supply.

That the first mother to give birth while under chloroform (she was a physician's wife) celebrated the event by naming her daughter Anesthesia.
